Be ready to board the boat and depart by 8:00 AM each day of the charter. This will increase the probability of better travel and success due to changing weather in the Straits area.

DESTINATION and dive type (recreational or ext. range) is determined by the reserving group at the time the reservation is made. Weather conditions may change the destination.

*RETURNING to port between dives will typically cost $120 to cover fuel and time. Prices quoted are for diving from the Cheboygan Harbor and within a half hour cruising time from that harbor (This includes Straits Area and Hammond Bay). Other dive locations will require destination fees to cover the cost of transporting the dive boat. These fees are for the weekend and will be collected if the boat arrives at the destination even if the dive is canceled because of weather. Multiple diving days may also include storage fees and/or dockage.

A non-diving dive master is not required, one will be provided, but if you bring one along they will not be charged any fee.

A waiver will be signed by all divers and the dive master before the boat leaves on a charter.

A cooler for pop and snacks and bottled water will be provided. Divers are asked to bring only what is necessary for safe and comfortable diving; open deck space is a must for safe diving.
